About the Exchange Program
Undergraduate students enrolled in FSAD and DEA may spend up to a year studying in partner programs at the College of Creative Arts Massey University in Wellington.

The College of Creative Arts is where many of New Zealand's cutting edge designers and fine artists began their careers. It is a place where you mix with other passionate art and design-obsessed students, where you can be creative with your non-conformist ideas, where you are valued for the independent development and expression of your ideas and where you are taught by artists, designers and academics who are in touch with design and art companies and employers. The well-established reputation of their creative arts programs remains unsurpassed. Their students win national and international awards, and frequently dominate the student section of the DIZN Best Design Awards, and have strong representation in the Dyson Product Awards and at the International Red Dot competition.

Wellington is New Zealand's capital city and the center of the country, geographically, culturally and politically. Set between a magnificent harbor and green hills, Wellington is compact and welcoming. Wellington's 400,000 residents enjoy a vibrant café culture, unique boutiques, and a colorful nightlife. The Massey University Wellington campus is centrally located near the city's artistic and entertainment quarters of Cuba Street and Courtenay Place.

About Massey University

Massey University is unique amongst New Zealand universities, in that, it is a multi-campus university delivering rigorous academic programs in three North Island city centers. Massey University has 36,000 students enrolled in three campuses located in Auckland, Palmerston North and Wellington. Internationally, Massey University ranks among the top three universities in New Zealand. While Massey is a large, comprehensive university, the campuses have a strong community-feel, conducive study environments, and a friendly, welcoming atmosphere. The academic programs taught at each campus are complementary to the city and regional environment.

The Wellington campus is where Massey University's College of Creative Arts is located. Known as the creative campus, Massey Wellington with 4,000 students is home to New Zealand's oldest and most prestigious School of Design. The College of Creative Arts provides internationally benchmarked undergraduate and postgraduate programs in art, design and visual and material culture. It brings together the Wellington School of Design with its reputation for excellence in art and design education since 1886, the School of Fine Arts and the School of Visual and Material Culture. The College provides coordinated scholarship and research across a wide range of creative disciplines.
